THE FOLLOW THRU

Here it is only one week before the Bing Crosby 27th Pro-Am Golf Tournament and the weather is remarkably beautiful. The sky is blue and clear, and the wind is as calm as can be expected. If the weatherman crosses his fingers, really hard, maybe he can predict with accuracy the weather will hold. If so, we'll have the "Clambake" that will top them all.

But it might be more than we can bargain for, because the Crosby seems rarely to be blessed with good conditions. Remember last year?

POSTAGE RATES INCREASE

LOCAL MAIL GOES TO 6¢

Carmel Postmaster Fred Strong reminds postal customers that on January 7 the new postage rates will go into effect.

New rates will be:

First class, 6 cents per ounce; postcards, five cents; air mail, ten cents, and air postcards, eight cents. (Parcel post and international mail will be the exception).

Strong also issued an important notice to Carmel businessmen who send out statements using the "drop letter rate." THERE WILL BE NO DROP LETTER RATE, effective January 7. What previously cost four cents now will be six cents, no matter where the letter goes, in town or not. He also mentioned that those businessmen who have their envelopes stamped with four cents will have to add two-cent stamps to get the mail through. "We have plenty of two-cent stamps at the post office," he said.

Strong went on to say, "Even with the new rates, postal service is still a real bargain. For six cents you can send a letter to any of the 50 states; to any United States territory or possession; to Canada or Mexico, or to an American serviceman stationed anywhere in the world."

He said the added cent in the letter rate is a 20 per cent increase compared to a 24 per cent boost in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines, and a 34 per cent hike for advertising circulars, "occupant" mail, and other material in the third-class category.

The new rate of six cents per ounce for first-class mail applies up to 13 ounces and the new rate of 10 cents per ounce for air mail applies up to seven ounces. Under the new rate structure all first-class mail over 13 ounces and all air mail over seven ounces will be merged into a single category.

These heavier pieces of first-class and air mail subject to the single rate schedule will be delivered by the fastest available means of transportation.

A flat rate of 80 cents will be charged for all mail in this category up to one pound. For all mail weighing more than one pound, the present air parcel post rates will continue to apply, except that the postage on matter weighing between one and five pounds will change at half-pound intervals rather than one pound intervals.

Another rate change that will affect the general public is the increase from four to six cents for the first two ounces of individual pieces of third-class mail.

There will be no changes in the charges for special delivery, special handling, registered mail, certified mail, C.O.D. or insurance.

College Potentials Here Considered

About 18 members of the UC Alumni Club met for breakfast at the Highlands Inn yesterday to consider the possibilities of establishing a state college on the Monterey Peninsula.

Dudley Swim, member of the State Coordinating Council for Higher Education, said that one of the prime considerations is tied in with the percentage of high school graduates. Ten counties supply 90 per cent of the college students and of these, Contra Costa and San Mateo have no state college. Therefore, they probably have priority. However, Monterey is not far behind.

2 Auto Accidents Claim Carmelites

Mrs. Dione Nopert, who operated the L'Escargot restaurant with her husband, Yvan, for the past 10 years, was killed in an automobile accident on December 31, early in the morning, when her car went out of control in Carmel Woods.

Mrs. Nopert was a riding instructor at Pebble Beach and Point Lobos riding stables. She was born in Des Moines, Iowa in 1933. Inurnment was in charge of Paul Mortuary.

Norri Bobbs, 20-year-old daughter of Carmel artist Howard Bobbs and Mrs. Bobbs, was killed December 21 in an automobile accident near Yuma, Arizona when her car was struck from the rear. She and her sister, Margery, were en route to Carmel from Santa Fe, New Mexico where the family maintains a second home. Mr. and Mrs. Bobbs were following in another car.

Margery, a student at the University of Colorado, was emplaned to Community Hospital where she is slowly recovering. Another sister, Sheila, traveling by train, survives as does her grandmother, Mrs. Douglas Grant of Carmel.

Twelfth-Night Tree-Burning

Tomorrow evening at 6 there will be the traditional Twelfth-night tree burning on the beach below 13th street. The whole town is invited to bring their Christmas trees for one great bonfire.

The event is sponsored by All Saints' Episcopal Church and the Carmel Christian Youth Group composed of children from all the churches. Miss Jo Brazell is adult advisor.

Afterwards there will be a big family night of refreshments and entertainment at All Saints' Parish Hall, ending by dedication to the new year at 9:30.

A short way up Carmel Valley Road, at 5:30 p.m., at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula, another "Burning of the Greens" Epiphany celebration will take place.

Traditionally, this date recalls the twelfth day of Christmas when the Three Wise Men, bearing gifts, were thought to have found the infant Jesus after following a star as guide over many miles of desert and plain.

A program in which Dr. Robert Frost will show films of his travels as ship's doctor aboard the Te Vega will follow a church supper. All friends of the church are invited as guests by the Young Couples Group. Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Aran, Mrs. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Avila will assist. Call 624-8595 for reservations.

The Carmel Police Department reminds bicycle owners that it is time to buy licenses. The licenses will be sold at the Station Saturday between 8 a.m. and noon.

Referendum Petitions

Two referendum petitions are being circulated in Carmel. If enough names appear on the petitions, an election will be held on the Ordinances regarding the Rezoning of Sunset Center, and Permitting Limited Motel use in the R-1 District.

WEATHER

The promise is continued clear days with high temperatures in the 60s and occasional lows under 40. Have you noticed the daylight hours are longer?

Hit of the Year for Golden Bough

The Circle Theatre presentation of "Luv" only proves that if a community theatre puts a good script in the hands of a competent director, set designer, technical crew, and actors, only success will result.

Without a doubt this satirical comedy of love by Murray Schisgal will be placed high on the Circle's honor roll of fine performances. It is the hit of the year for the Golden Bough Players!

The parts of the husband played by Bob Lotz; his college friend by Dick Bird, and the wife by Joyce Malikoff, were perfectly cast by director Norman McPhee.

Joyce, an accomplished vocalist and painter of abstracts, entered, and within a few minutes had the audience exactly in the palm of her hands. Her voice, her actions, her costuming, her "so-what-in-the-heck" attitude, all went into making her performance the most outstanding of the evening, if one can be pointed up. Never once did she babble a line, stray from her character, get off pace, or crack as the audience hilariously enjoyed her lines. A remarkable performance to say the least.

Dick Bird, who starred in "Arms and the Man" at the Circle recently, rose to even new heights. Although he got off to a somewhat slow part, I'm sure it was little fault of his own. Dick assumed his characterization immediately but the audience had a difficult time accustoming themselves to that part. The longer he performed, the more the audience loved him, right up to the end.

The third party of the trio was Bob Lotz. We have seen his better performances in "Catch Me If You Can" and "Janus" but this is not to say that his part was inadequate . . . merely that it is difficult to top those previous roles. Bob proved his professionalism as an actor in the last scene of Act 2 when his motorcycle failed to start, and he ad libbed to Joyce, "You push me off."

"Luv" was quite an undertaking for the Circle, or for that matter, any community theatre. Both acts took place on a bridge and three actors carried difficult lines at a fast, rapid pace. A beautiful performance, but not recommended for youngsters.

Theatre Review

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW", a comedy by Shakespeare, has had audiences laughing for almost 400 years. The shrew is evil-tempered Katharina. In the motion picture version, Elizabeth Taylor is the shrew. And the man who tames her, Petruchio, is played by Richard Burton.

ULYSSES. By resourceful film techniques at some points plus a willingness merely to illustrate voice over passages at others, Director Joseph Strick and an excellent cast have rendered James Joyce's great novel in absorbing cinematic terms.

FESTIVAL. Murray Lerner has assembled an engrossing chronicle of four years at the Newport Folk Festival. Singers from Joan Baez, Peter, Paul and Mary, from Bob Dylan to Buffy Sainte-Marie. There's a great deal of music but also interviews.

THE BIBLE Director John Huston has spent 18 million while filming the first 22 chapters of Genesis in epic terms. The tedious results will have little appeal to those who do not accept fundamental teachings. The final sequences of Abraham show some value, however.

VALLEY OF THE DOLLS Superficially glamorous film version of a novel about drugs, jealousy and big-city sin among those in the theater world. Susan Hayward, Patty Duke star.

WAIT UNTIL DARK. A suspenseful thriller in which a blind girl, trapped by thugs who try to make her reveal the whereabouts of a cache of heroin, outwits her torturers.

HAWAII, based on a segment of the lengthy novel by Jame Michener, this picture stars Julie Andrews and Max von Sydow and is set during the score of years after 1820. It describes the struggle of the New England missionaries to bring a form of Christianity to the natives. The production took seven years to complete and cost $15 million.

Present for the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. McLellan's entire family of their son and three daughters and their families.

The couple were wed 50 years ago in a double wedding ceremony with Mrs. McLellan's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Needham of Whittier. The two couples enjoyed a two-week second honeymoon trip to Mexico City shortly before Christmas.

MUSICAL COMMENTS

Carmelites missed an enchanting production of Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" when they stayed away in large numbers from the program offered by the Lamar High School of Houston, Texas at Sunset Wednesday evening. It was easy to understand why the many Houston sponsors were proud enough of their music department to raise the money to send them on tour.

Blessed by two fine voices, the part of Amahl, the crippled boy, was sung with purity and clarity by Pam Whitten; that of his mother, with full-bodied maturity of tone and phrasing, by Linda McClelland.

The interior set by Joseph K. Rider, of their poor hut was convincingly staged and well lighted. The three kings, led by the page, entered from the back of the house. While their voices were youthful, the words and harmony of the music were not lost nor spoiled.

The large cast of shepherds and villagers also made an effective entrance from the back and grouped themselves informally on either side up the stairs of the stage. They too sang the difficult contemporary harmony of the Menotti opera beautifully, with perfect enunciation, apparently without direction.

An excellent accompaniment was provided by the piano hidden behind the set. A charming and graceful peasant dance by Lawreen Kelley and Paul Taylor amused the kings and audience as well.

Not until the second half of the program did we learn who was responsible for training these young people: Mrs. Norma Lowder.

This part consisted of traditional carols and Christmas songs, some of them done by a group of bell ringers called Taii Shiloha, in attractive red uniforms using Dutch bells.

An Ad in the Pine Cone is a Better Value

Bad news, Tom, I was just downtown and heard that CARMEL was going to the DOGS!

Carmel Is 'Going to the Dogs'

The Pine Cone recently received a letter from an irate visitor complaining that "Carmel is going to the dogs." This doesn't imply, however, that our unique little Village is going "to pot"; but it does mean that the residents are permitting their dogs, small or large, to use our public streets and sidewalks as relief stations, to put it delicately.

We acknowledged the letter, but did not feel it should be broadcasted far and wide . . . however, this did serve to make us more aware of the situation. We observed and we heard more complaints from citizens.

Our last complaint came this week. The complainant said she was nearing the post office when she stopped abruptly to witness a man waiting for his dog to defecate on the sidewalk. It was more than she could stand, so she proceeded to ask the person if he was actually going to let his dog use the public sidewalk as a toilet. Looking down his nose, he gave her a positive reply.

On the same corner a week ago, I was astonished to see a well-dressed woman standing in the middle of the pedestrian crosswalk smiling . . . while her dog, a huge St. Bernard puppy, succumbed to the call of nature. It is absurd to contend with such.

We complain about our hippies who do not bathe, and grow long hair and beards, accusing them of living in filth. But we allow our dogs the privilege of using our public property as privies.

Take a walk around town, and you'll surely notice the stains on beautiful planters put in front of shops to make our village more attractive.

The City ordinance governing this question, states that "no person having the right and ability to prevent, shall, knowingly, or carelessly or negligently, permit any dog or other animal to commit any nuisance upon any sidewalk of any public street, avenue, park, public square or place in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

So, evidently, these two cases, which are not isolated, could be considered a breach of the law. It might be in order to inform an officer if you see such a happening.

If we can convince those inconsiderate individuals to curb their dogs properly, then maybe we can keep our sidewalks clean.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

"Youth Asks Some Questions About Prayer" is the title of this Sunday's radio program on the Christian Science series "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be heard over radio stations KGO at 7:30, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45. A college student will receive answers to such questions as "Is Prayer Ever Answered?" "Isn't it too simple to think you get what you ask for?"

RLS Graduate Is Named Rhodes Scholar

Christopher Scott Key, who graduated from the Robert Louis Stevenson School in June, 1964, and is presently a senior honor student at the University of Nevada, has been named a Rhodes Scholar according to word received by Headmaster Robert U. Ricklefs today.

As a Rhodes Scholarship recipient, Key will have the opportunity to do graduate work at Oxford University in England for two years with all expenses paid.

He was one of 32 boys selected from the United States and one of four boys selected from the region comprising the eight western states. He is the first Stevenson School graduate to be so honored, and the first University of Nevada student to be selected since 1949.

Ricklefs stated that Key will be an outstanding Rhodes Scholar. He has intellectual capacity, is clear thinking, is deeply interested in human beings, and has a warm and outgoing personality which insures a favorable reception among his peers at Oxford. He will do honor to us all.

Drug Education And Adolescent Problems

Two courses to be started in January by the University of California at Santa Cruz Extension for secondary teachers in the area, are perhaps related.

The first deals with causes. Dr. Friedy B. Heisler, well-known Carmel psychiatrist, will instruct a course Emotional Problems of Adolescence. It will be given at MPC from 7 to 10 p.m. each Monday evening, starting January 8 and continuing through March 18.

The second deals with effects: Dr. Joel Fort, M.D., noted author, lecturer, and former consultant on Drug Abuse, World Health Organization and the United Nations, will teach a course on Drug Education. It will be given at Monterey High School, Herrman Drive, on January 5-6, January 19-20, and February 2-3.

Certainly the Carmel Pine Cone family of readers are interested in their paper. They pay cash to read it.

Sam Farr, son of former State Senator Fred Farr, held an open house, New Year's Eve, for members of the class of 1959 at Carmel High School.

About 70 people, not all at once, gathered around the two big fires, one inside, the other outside, to get caught up on what everyone had been doing all year. There were phone calls from all over, as far away as Washington and Los Angeles. Two record players provided the dance music.

He returned recently from South America where he has been training teachers for the Peace Corps. He will continue to do recruiting in the Bay Area until fall when he plans to return to law school at the University of Santa Clara.

Heading for Cuernavaca

The John Gelsens left today to spend a couple of weeks in Cuernavaca, Mexico. It will be a welcome rest from the logistics involved in handling all the people who gathered at their home for the holidays.

While in Mexico City they look forward to visiting the Anthropological Museum which is said to be spectacular.

Madame Renee Martell, Micheline's (Mrs. John) mother, left recently for New York on her way back to Paris.

Marjory and Frank Lloyd are also headed south. They left recently for Costa Rica where Frank had visited with his botanist father, the late Prof. Francis E. Lloyd when he was 19. They will end up in Puerta Vallarta, Mexico in February, after exploring Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua.

$100 REWARD

Open space is for esthetic enjoyment—not for garbage remarked Dudley Swim, President of the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation, as he announced the Foundation's offer of $100 reward for the person or persons who supply information leading to each of the first five arrests and subsequent convictions for illegal dumping or litterbugging. This is part of their campaign to keep the Monterey Peninsula undesecrated and beautiful.

He said Sheriff Jack Davenport and Inspector Snyder of the Sheriff's Department are waging a vigorous campaign against such abuses. "Our Board of Directors desires to give the support of the Foundation to them and to other citizens such as Bob Talbott, Peter Delfino and Lou Gardner, in our common cause of keeping the Monterey Peninsula beautiful," Swim concluded.

KEN DYER PRINCIPAL AND PARTNER IN NEW COMPANY

Kenneth R. Dyer has been announced as a principal and partner in the only locally owned investment firm on the Monterey Peninsula. The firm will be known as Yates, Andrews & Dyer, Inc. The firm has been in the securities business in Carmel for over 16 years and specializes in mutual funds.

Mr. George Yates and Mr. Jack Andrews are the other principals in the firm and the offices of the firm are located at Sixth and Dolores in Carmel. Ken Dyer has been associated with the firm since October, 1965.

Mr. Dyer was born in Dayton, Washington and attended the University of Idaho where he majored in business administration. He was commissioned in the Army in 1932 and retired as a Regular Army Colonel in 1964. He was stationed at Fort Ord in 1940-41, and he and Mrs. Dyer have been enthusiastic supporters of Carmel ever since.

Although he seldom speaks of his military service, Ken had some very important and interesting assignments including foreign service and duty at the Pentagon. He twice served on a staff of the National Security Council. His last assignment was as U.S. Army Attache to the Court of St. James (American Embassy), London, England. He has been awarded the Legion of Merit for Exceptional Meritorious Service, the Soldier's Medal for Valor, the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster and the French Croix de Guerre.

With his background in business administration, Ken has always been interested in investments, finance, economics and management; therefore, while serving in the Pentagon, he took advantage of courses offered at the American University in Washington, D.C. to improve his knowledge. He is a registered principal with the National Association of Security Dealers and with the Division of Corporations, State of California.

Ken was married in 1934. His wife, Peggy, was born in Lincolnshire, England and is a licensed real estate agent in California and Virginia. They have one son, Capt. Paul E. Dyer, a U.S. Army pilot, who returned this week fro ma year's tour of flying duty in Viet Nam and Northern Thailand. Capt. Dyer and his wife and son will be stationed at Fort Ord in February.

Ken is a member on the board of directors of Carmel Kiwanis Club; treasurer of the Scottish Society of the Monterey Peninsula; member of The American Club (an exclusive club in London for senior American business men); Itchen Fishing Club, England; member of Speaking Union of San Francisco, and on the board of directors of the World Affairs Council, Monterey Peninsula.

Calorie Countdown Dinners

What a happy surprise to attend a dinner party after you have started your New Year's resolution to reduce . . . and to find that everything is not only delicious but also slimming! We now give two 500 calorie menus, each in which the calorie count is down but the enjoyment still up! No nibblers excepting raw vegetables, no drinks excepting low-cal ones, no bread or butter but plenty else:

Menu No. 1 (500 calories)

Tomato Bouillon

Six cups tomato juice; ¾ cup minced onion; 1 bay leaf; ½ cup celery chopped with leaves; ½ t. dried oregano leaves; ¼ t., each, seasoned salt and pepper; low fat cottage cheese; paprika; chopped chives or parsley.

Simmer everything together for 15 minutes (excepting last three items.) Allow to stand until just before serving then drain, reheat. Serve in cups, each topped with 1 T. cottage cheese and seasonings. Serves 6.

Herb-Broiled Lamb Chops

Twelve rib lamb chops, 1 inch thick; 2 t. dried basil leaves; 2 t., each, dried marjoram and thyme leaves and salt.

Wipe chops with damp cloth. Mix other items; rub into both sides of chops. Chill, covered, 1 hour. Place on broiler rack, 4 inches from heat; for medium rare, broil 6 minutes on one side, 4 minutes on other. Serves 6.

Green Pepper Saute

One T. salad oil; 1 cup sliced onion; 3 green peppers sliced in ¼ inch rings; ½ lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced; 1 t. salt; ⅛ t. crushed dried pepper and oregano, each.

In hot oil in skillet, saute onion, stirring until golden. Add remaining items; cook covered over medium heat, stir and serve hot. If using Teflon skillet, oil is omitted. Serves 6.

Marinated Carrots

One cup white vinegar; ¼ cup chopped onion; 1 tsp. salt; 1 t. pickling spice; 12 small carrots, scraped, left whole.

Heat marinade then add carrots; reduce heat, simmer covered, 5 minutes. Pour into shallow baking dish and refrigerate 2 hours. Drain and reheat before serving. Serves 6. Serve fresh fruit (excepting bananas) for dessert and plenty of coffee without sugar or cream, although non-caloric sweetener is permitted.

For Menu No. 2, serve the same type of soup first made from vegetable juices, canned jellied or heated consomme with lemon wedges. The main course is:

Baby Lobsters Mariniere

Six live (1-lb. size, each) lobsters or use 6 (5-oz. size, each) frozen lobster tails. Plunge, unthawed, into large kettle of boiling salted water. Return to boiling; boil, covered, about 8 minutes. Drain, then serve hot or cold with the following delectable dip. The live lobsters are plunged into large kettle of boiling salted water and boiled, covered, for about 20 minutes, then drained. The dressing consists of low calorie bottled Italian dressing mixed with lemon juice. Serve with boiled frozen string beans and cauliflower buds, fresh fruit, coffee.

Highlands Inn New Year's Party

There were many unusual celebrations on the Peninsula this New Year's Eve, but one of the most unusual took place at the Highlands Inn where the Highland Regimental Pipers "piped" in the new year in the best of Scottish tradition.

The party began at 6 p.m. with neighboring highlanders joining with the Inn family and guests at the Wassail bowl and Eggnog party. Later on after the dinner and dancing, the jubilant midnight party got under way. At the stroke of midnight the Pipers, regally attired in tartan and kilt, joined the orchestra in "Auld Lang Syne."

On New Year's morning, bruncheon was served and about noon Auld Hansel Monday celebrations began. Each guest brought or found something old or funny to wrap and place under the Scottish Christmas tree. The old and funny gifts were delivered about during a Fizz party.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

This library is especially sensitive to books on Arctic exploration, due to the fact that we have the Leffingwell collection on the same subject. Thus we have the new biography of Peary, with the name as the title, and written by John Weems, who is on the staff of the University of Texas. Now, nobody says Arctic exploration is easy, or comfortable, nobody says that! But it must have been even worse in the early days of this century. The photographs of explorers pushing and pulling dog sleds over the frozen Arctic sea are enough to make us all grateful for warm fireplaces and easy chairs. Be an arm chair explorer and go with Peary to the North Pole!

A book which bears the Imprimatur of the Catholic Church is THE FOUR GOSPELS by Bruce Vawter. This is said to be an ideal guide for the layman in his search for the real meaning of these gospels for the author gives the historic, linguistic, religious and cultural backgrounds of all four. Father Vawter intreats the reader to have a copy of these Gospels before him as he reads the book, because they must be read together for real understanding.

A book which may send you over hill and dale gathering herbs and grasses is YOUR ASTROLOGICAL GUIDE TO HEALTH AND DIET by Carroll Richter. In using the book you first check for your own astrological sign. After finding it you can then delve into all the particular characteristics your sign allows you, and then you will arrive at the lists of your various physical weaknesses and the herbs that will help you. The thing that keeps bothering this librarian is the fear that the hapless seeker may be allergic to some of these herbs and end in more trouble than he had in the beginning.

THE SELECTED LETTERS OF DYLAN THOMAS were edited by Constantine FitzGibbon. This is the personal Thomas as revealed by his letters and the notes the editor has written to explain hidden references. There is a chronology of the poet's life and in the back of the book an index of the persons to whom the letters were written.

Henri Troyat has written a biography of TOLSTOY which is as monumental as any biography of Tolstoy must be. It is said of the book, "But, TOLSTOY is more than a biography. It is also a recapturig of the scent, the scene, the color of Russia in the mid-nineteenth century, a book rich in the fabric of history." Henry Troyat is a member of the Academie Francaise.

The facts of history tell us that during the Civil War, General Sherman gave the order to round up all the ladies of light morals which were to be found with the army beseiging the city of Memphis, and to take them up the river to Cairo and put them ashore there. This is the basis of a novel by Edmund Love which he has called A SHIPMENT OF TARTS. This is another of the big books which are in publishing style right now. It may be renewed once. Only once!

Have a happy New Year, full of reading!

Hostelry Tax — Narcotics — Traffic Discussed at Carmel Council Meeting

After getting off to a slow start last night, the Carmel City Council wound up its business a bit earlier than usual, and adjourned into an executive session.

The Council decided to continue the matter on Sunset Rental Policy until such time as the Cultural Commission requests further clarification, and the Ordinance rezoning Sunset becomes effective.

The Committee on Lands and Improvement, Councilmen Herb Blanks and Bill Sefton, told the Council a plan is being drawn up for low key lighting throughout Devendorf Park.

Because of the increasing narcotics problem on the Peninsula, the Council felt that a joint powers agreement for mutual aid and cooperation in narcotics control on the Peninsula, should be prepared. Police Chief Clyde Klaumann said that when an officer helps out an adjoining community, he is without assurance if injury should result. No one community is responsible for the actions, and this agreement will provide a definition of responsibility.

The Council then considered increasing the Hostelry Tax from 4 to 5 per cent and asked the Committee on Administration to study the question. Councilman Sefton requested that the committee cooperate with the Inn Keepers' Association and to consider their requests as to the distribution of revenues. The League of California Cities suggested that the Hostelry Tax be the same as the Sales Tax.

The Carmel Traffic Committee recommended in their Interim Report No. 1 that 5th Street between Dolores and San Carlos be made one-way going East, and that intersection signs be put in places where they can be seen from all corners. Attorney Skip Lloyd appeared to recommend that the one-way street go in a westerly direction and change the stalls in the post office parking lot. Mr. Lloyd was requested by the Council to work out a plan and present it to the Traffic Committee.

Police Chief Klaumann was given two new squad cars. A substantial savings is involved by buying them from the State.

The Chief was also given thanks for the results his department had while guarding against crime during 1967. He said that the new Police Station was a major cause for high morale, and that if still in the old station, the narcotics arrests probably would have been fewer.

Abbe Gail Slavin

SLAVIN'S of Zany's

"If you were a motion picture and television music director from Engand, what is the zaniest thing you could possibly do? Go into business with a Salad Bowl," was Abbe Gail's answer to her own question, and that is precisely what the Slavin's are about to open—the Peninsula's first fresh fruit and vegetable restaurant.

Martin Slavin, musician-composer from London, turned in his baton for a salad bowl when he immigrated to Carmel with his singer-writer wife, Abbe Gail and teenage daughter Deborah.

The Slavin's hope to tee off with the Bing Crosby Tournament, early in January, but as Abbe Gail says, "we may be running late at the 19th hole."

College Potentials Here Considered

promise of an attractive site would give Monterey "a leg up" in being considered. San Jose State College is fast reaching its 20,000 student limit, he said.

The possibility of a private college being started here was discussed. Recruiting an established college from the smog belt was suggested. An interchange of faculty, since we have several higher educational institutions here, also was suggested.

Mr. Swim said he had a hunch there would be dramatic changes in higher education now that business is being attracted to the world of education, because of its need for knowledge sources. There may be schools without the campus diversions. The scientific and technological side of research and use of computer is only starting, he said. The need is great for the collection, storage, classification and retrieval of information by computer.

"The objective of education is to equip a person to lead a superior life, morally, spiritually, economically, and to increase his effectiveness as an individual," he said.

Mr. Stuart Mitchell was appointed to line up other speakers on the possibilities of starting a four-year college here.
